

PRESS INFORMATION

EMBARGO: 24 February, 2010

NEW HISTORIC AUCTION HOUSE ESTABLISHED AT BROOKLANDS

Britain's most evocative motoring venue, Brooklands Museum, has become the permanent home for Historics at Brooklands, a new, independent auction house, for the sale and purchase of historic, classic and sports cars and motoring automobilia.

The inaugural Historics at Brooklands auction will be held on the evening of Wednesday, June 2, in the build-up prior to The Brooklands Double Twelve signature event on June 5/6. Further regular auctions will be hosted in the course of 2010.

Private investors are behind the formation of the new auction company, following an agreement with the Brooklands Museum Trust Ltd. This gives exclusive rights to the company to hold regular historic motor car auctions at the Weybridge venue.

Allan Winn, Director of Brooklands Museum Trust Ltd, has warmly welcomed Historics at Brooklands, commenting; "We have long wanted a regular top quality classic car auction in keeping with the history and legacy of this famous site. We are confident that the skilled and experienced Historics team are going to bring to their auctions the exceptional motor cars that everybody would expect to see at this venue, and we are very excited by the prospect of this new venture."

Historics at Brooklands is inviting entries to its inaugural auction on June 2, via the website, www.historics.co.uk. For further information, call 0800 988 3838 or e-mail: auctions@historics.co.uk.

FURTHER PRESS INFORMATION:

Historics at Brooklands Press Office

Contact: Michael Hodges / Chris Hodges

Tel: 01491 411777

Mobile: 07860 882580 / 07812 051886

E-mail: michael.hodges@mph.co.uk / chris/hodges@mph.co.uk

08 February 2010